Who We Are

Founded on March 14, 2025, the Digital School Visibility Initiative (DSVI) is a practical response to a pressing need: helping Liberian schools establish a meaningful and professional presence online. Powered by LIB NO. 1 Business Center, DSVI offers schools custom-built websites, intuitive, reliable, and affordable, starting at just $100 per year.

The initiative stems from more than business ambition. LIB NO. 1 Business Center, a well-regarded name in Liberia's electronics sector, established by CEO John Gyawu, has long understood the value of accessible technology. With DSVI, the company has extended its reach, applying its technical strengths to support the education sector in a direct and measurable way.

Led by Director Boniface Koffa Weah, Jr., the team behind DSVI is focused on real outcomes: clear communication between schools and communities, increased credibility in the eyes of partners and stakeholders, and the practical benefits of a digital platform tailored for education.

DSVI is built for schools that want to move forward, those ready to be seen, to inform, and to operate with greater confidence in a connected world. Each site is a reflection of the school it represents, carefully crafted to support administrators, engage parents, and showcase the work happening in classrooms every day.

We don't offer empty promises. We deliver working solutions, backed by experience, driven by purpose, and designed to last.
